Introduction

About SPRA

The Saskatchewan Parks and Recreation Association (SPRA) is a network of recreation leaders dedicated to energizing Saskatchewan and changing lives! We imagine a province where everyone has the opportunity to enjoy recreation and feel more connected to nature, our communities, and ourselves. It's our job to connect, educate and inspire others to build this future together. We're empowered to succeed through funding support from Sask Lotteries.

Purpose of the SPRA Grants and Funding Guide

The intent of the SPRA Grants and Funding Guide is to aid professionals and volunteers within the parks and recreation industry in searching for funding that supports their projects, programs or initiatives. It is because our industry relies heavily on grants that we have compiled over 200 unique funding opportunities in support of parks and recreation. Searching for funding can be a time consuming activity, therefore the Guide allows professionals and volunteers less time spent searching for grants and more time focusing on their projects, programs or initiatives that support communities.

Opportunities presented in this resource are accurate as of the print date. SPRA's intention is to share grants and funding opportunities that are relevant to the industry, and as such, opportunities referencing specific companies, foundations or organisations should not be viewed as an endorsement.

Features of the SPRA Grants and Funding Guide

Along with the names, descriptions and links to grants and funding applications, the Guide contains valuable information on:

- Tips for grant writing
- Tips for searching government and corporate grants and funding opportunities
- Tips on how to stay informed about upcoming and new grants and funding opportunities
- Available infrastructure and capital grants and funding opportunities

Grants and funding opportunities available for infrastructure or capital projects are noted with asterisks (**). The opportunities labelled with asterisks are self described as being able to support "capital, construction, infrastructure, renovations, retrofits or upgrades."

Requesting Copies

Printed copies can be obtained by contacting the SPRA main office, or by contacting a SPRA Field Consultant in your area. Field Consultants are knowledgeable professionals who may be able to provide additional support and answer questions. Please note, there is a limited supply of printed copies but electronic copies are always available on the SPRA website at www.spra.sk.ca.

Searching and Staying Informed about Grants and Funding Opportunities

In addition to utilizing the Guide, searching for available grants and funding can be conducted by going straight to the source. Common sources are the federal and provincial governments and corporations. Tips and guidance for searching are provided below, along with the recommendation to sign up for the SPRA Parks & Recreation Connection Newsletter. Information about new grants and reminders of upcoming grant deadlines are often shared in the newsletter.

Searching for Government Grants

Federal and provincial governments can be a major source of funding for communities and groups; therefore, it is important to have the knowledge on how to effectively search for available funding. To assist, some tips and guidance are provided below:

Government of Canada

The Government of Canada's website has a search function to assist those looking for grants. In addition, grants can be searched by visiting the webpages of individual departments and agencies. However, with over 200 departments or agencies, searchers may want to focus on a few that most likely offer grants in support of parks and recreation. Some suggestions are Employment and Social Development Canada, Infrastructure Canada and Canadian Heritage.

Government of Saskatchewan

The Government of Saskatchewan offers various funding opportunities specific to municipalities. To view these funding opportunities visit “Funding for Municipalities” at:

<https://www.saskatchewan.ca/government/municipal-administration/funding-finances-and-asset-management/funding>

On the “Funding for Municipalities” webpage, information can be found on:

- Federal Gas Tax Fund
- Investing in Canada Infrastructure Program (ICIP)
- Northern Capital Grants Program
- Municipal Economic Enhancement Program 2020
- Transit Assistance for People with Disabilities Funding

Searching for Corporate Grants

Many corporations offer grants for various purposes. The SPRA Grants and Funding Guide includes many that benefit communities and groups as well as support parks and recreation. However, you may want to search for corporate grants on your own. Visiting a corporations’ website is an effective way to search for grants a corporation may offer. It is common for corporations to include information about their grants in their “about us” page or in links that refer to “community” or “sustainability.”

Sign up for E-Newsletters – Receive Reminders and Information

New grant opportunities arise from time to time and some of these are time sensitive. To increase your odds of becoming aware of these new opportunities, consider signing up for the SPRA Parks & Recreation Connection Newsletter. This bi-weekly e-newsletter also includes reminders for upcoming grant application deadlines. Additionally, the Sport, Culture and Recreation Districts and the Municipalities of Saskatchewan have e-newsletters that often include information about upcoming grants and funding opportunities.

Grant Writing Tips

Do Your Homework

Spend time researching the funding organization to identify if your initiative or program aligns with their objectives. Read the grant guidelines to determine if the opportunity is a good fit. If you have any questions, contact the organization directly. In the end, you will be saving both your time and theirs.

Less is Sometimes More

Be clear and concise as you craft your proposal or grant application. Padding your application with extra text or unnecessary supplements such as flyers, videos or books may only distract funders from your ask.

Big or Small, Apply for Them All

Don't limit your search to the "big ticket" grants – the best "fit" and least competition for dollars may be through a local community foundation.

Be Specific

Funders want to know why your program/initiative is a good investment. Outline exactly what they are going to get for their money; starting with a strong, credible description of the project, with its need and outcomes clearly identified.

Include a Detailed Budget

Outline how you intend on utilizing the money; make a list of everything you said you were going to do that has financial implications, then assign a dollar value to each item.

Create an Evaluation Plan

What tools will you use to collect data or information that shows whether your project has met its objectives? Surveys, pre or post questionnaires, focus groups, testimonials, and videos are only some of the ways you can measure your impact.

Follow the Application Guidelines

Use the guidelines as an outline and a checklist to ensure your application includes all of the required information.
